

Mr. Paul S. Bloch

The Boeing Company

EDUCATION:

Salve Regina University, M.A. International Relations, 1989
Naval War College, College of Naval Command and Staff, 1979
U.S. Naval Postgraduate School, M.S. Operations Research, 1975
U.S. Naval Academy, B.S. Mathematics and Physics, 1965

WORK EXPERIENCE:

The Boeing Company

Project Manager, System of Systems Architecture Development, 2000 to present

Analyst, Integrated Air and Missile Defense Project, 1998-2000

U.S. Naval War College, College of Continuing Education

Extension Program Professor, Joint Maritime Operations and National Security Decision Making Curricula, 1998-present

U.S. Naval Postgraduate School

Deputy Director, Institute For Joint Warfare Analysis, 1994-1998

Lecturer, Operations Research and National Security Affairs
Departments, 1993-1998

Chair of Tactical Analysis, Operations Research Department
(USN, Active Duty) 1989-1991

U.S. Air Force

Analyst, Gulf War Air Power Survey, 1991-1992

U.S. Navy

U.S. Naval War College, RADM Stephen B. Luce Chair of Naval Strategy; Military Professor, Strategy Department, 1985-1989

Staff Commander, U.S. Seventh Fleet (Western Pacific) Air Warfare
Plans Officer, 1983-1985

Bombardier Navigator, A6 Intruder Aircraft, 1969-1983

Attack Squadron 165 Commanding Officer/Executive Officer, 1980-1983

Various Billets in three other AG Squadrons

Vietnam Service, 1969-1979

USS Sterett (CG31) Navigator and Assistant Combat Information Center
Officer, 1966-1969

AREAS OF EXPERTISE:

Operations Research, Development and Analysis of System of Systems
Architectures, Command and Control Strike Operations, Strategic and Operational Planning.

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS:

Sigma Xi

Institute for Operations Research (INFORMS)

Military Operations Research Society

---